Think He's Only Deserted. The Staten Island Ferry Company had a andy of a midshipman of the schoolship St. Mary's, supposed to have been drowned from the ferryboat Westfield last night, from the forry-boat Westfield last night.
Three mid-himmen on board the ferry-boat told Foliceman Finnerty at 8.30 that one of their courrades had just fallen over-board and search was best up for six hours, but without result.

None of the passengers on the Westfield asw anyone fall overboard or heard any cries of distress.

The police do not believe anyone was drowned and think the missing midshipman has deserted his ship and that his friends are shielding him from capture by reporting him as having been drowned.
